For Congress.
JAS. A. MCKENZIE,
OF CHRISTIAN.

If New Jersey and Connecticut will but do their duty all will end well.

The Republicans have nominated Gen. S. S. Fry for Congress in Phil. Thompson's district.

Thomas Keene, the new tragedian, is creating a sensation wherever he goes.

If every Democrat will do his whole duty next Tuesday there is no doubt that Hancock will carry Kentucky.

New York is pretty certain and we only need twelve more votes, and we have six doubtful States to draw from.

The Democratic outlook in Connecticut and New Jersey is not as good as it might be, but we still have an even chance.

The Courier-Journal of Thursday published a list of one hundred and fifteen Union Generals who are supporting Hancock.

The Congressional race is between McKenzie and Feland. Cook is hardly in the race. He will not get a respectable vote in his own county.

The Greenback party has seen its best days. The vote this year will show that it is gradually and steadily retrograding.

When the Republicans carry the State of Kentucky we may stop to consider the question, "Is the Democratic party dead?"

If Cook will make a few more speeches here he may be able to get enough votes to keep the county from going unanimously for McKenzie.

The famous Indian chief, Victoria, who has caused so much trouble on the frontier has been killed and his head scattered by a party under the Mexican General, Terras.

Garfield favors cheap Chinese labor on the Pacific coast. California will no doubt give her electoral vote to Hancock. The Democrats have an even chance in Colorado and Nevada.

Mr. Herman Looser, of N. Y., and Miss Rosa Looser, of Owensboro, were married at the latter city last week. It seems that in entering the marriage state both parties were losers.

Next Tuesday is the termination of the great campaign of 1880. Let every Democrat here in Christian give his vote at the polls for Hancock and McKenzie and help to swell the majority in the State to 75,000.

The Princeton Banner has been very much enlarged and improved since Capt. Allen got his new power press. We are glad to see this evidence of prosperity on the part of our esteemed contemporary.

Polk Johnson is "doing up" the Kentucky Press in the Sunday Argus. The first batch of biographical sketches are reproduced on another page this week. We shall publish them from time to time as they appear.

Democrats, give Mr. McKenzie an increased majority. Show the world that there is at least one Democratic Gibraltar where Republicanism and Greenbackism are both set at defiance. Let the Second District do her duty.

Garfield favors the immigration of cheap Chinese labor. A Chinaman can live on rice and get rich on 25 cents a day. Can the workmen of the Pacific States afford to compete with such labor? This question is likely to cause California and Nevada to go for Hancock. So note it, please.

The Last Review.

The Presidential election will take place next Tuesday. Before a large proportion of our readers receive another paper the agony will be over. We will therefore in as fair and impartial a manner as we can state the relative positions occupied by the two great parties. We desire to deceive no one or to cause any one to be either depressed or elated over Democratic prospects. We regard the chances for success of the two parties as about even. If Indiana had gone Democratic there would be hardly a doubt of Hancock's election. As it is Garfield's chances were greatly enhanced. The tariff question has also been sprung to the disadvantage of the Democrats. The tariff question was not considered of much importance by the Cincinnati Convention, and the plank in the platform briefly expressed was "a tariff for revenue only." This is the great principle of Democratic doctrine, but the ambiguous way in which the Republican party expressed its position enabled it to raise the hue and cry about free trade, and in manufacturing States it will do harm to the Democratic prospects. The Republicans favor protection and the laying of heavy duties upon foreign imports in order to protect American manufacturers at the expense of the consuming masses. But for the duty on fine French cloths and other goods they could be bought here at the same prices, if not even cheaper than home-made goods of inferior quality. But in manufacturing States like Connecticut and New Jersey the Republicans are claiming that this Free Trade doctrine would destroy American industry, cheapen labor and flood the country with foreign imports. This question is being agitated in those States, and with the prestige of victory in Indiana the outlook is by no means as bright as a short while ago. On the other hand the Democrats are in fact that Garfield is an advocate, being a member of the Club of England, his object the advance of the trade doctrine. Hancock, on the other hand, is a free trader, and favors a free trade policy. This is about the only difference we find in the politics of the East, The South, and New York. The votes, and New York will give 173, are conceded. He needs 12 more votes to Jersey will probably furnish 182. Where will the other three come from? We do not count on Connecticut, so we must look elsewhere. If the Fusion ticket succeeds in Maine he can get them there, but we, while we do not give up all hope in Indiana or Connecticut either, look to the Pacific States for the other three. Garfield favors the importation of cheap Chinese labor, and that question is being raised against him to an extent that makes his chances of carrying those States look very doubtful. Nevada has but 500 Republican majority, and Mr. Fair is turning the State upside down in order to succeed Sharon as Senator. He is very wealthy and with his influence and the Chinese question the Democrats have a little better chance in that State. Oregon and California are also doubtful, and the two parties have about equal chances. Republican money may carry the day though and elect Garfield. The race is very close and in many States it is probable that the official count will be required to decide the election. There is one favorable feature about the matter though, if Electoral Commissions have to be resorted to again, and committees sent behind the returns, the majority in both houses of Congress will see that the fifteenth man is on the other side this time.

Garfield is a member of the Cobden Free Trade Club of England and yet his party are claiming that the Republican party is the party of protection. Hancock does not favor free trade but Garfield does. Will the manufacturers of Connecticut and New Jersey allow themselves to be misled in voting the Republican ticket upon the false and flimsy pretext that the Democratic party is a party of Free Trade. Garfield has advocated Free Trade in his speeches in Congress while Hancock has emphatically spoken against it.

We desire to mislead no one. The Presidential race is one of much doubt and uncertainty. There is no telling how several of the States will vote. If you have money to bet throw up "wet or dry" and decide upon which side you will stake your money.

The Republicans of this district have nominated Hon. John Feland. He is a man of ability and is universally esteemed by all parties, but he is not one who can beat McKenzie. McKenzie is as good as elected, but the other gentlemen can make the race for the second place.

The Union Democrat has closed its first volume, and its editor, Tom Cannon, announces that it is a success and that he has come to stay. We are glad to see it prosperous, as Cannon is a young man of talent and energy and deserves success.

In the families of two persons connected with the Democrat there have been Hancock babies born since the Indiana disaster.—Louisville Democrat.

At this rate about how long would it take to repair the loss of the Democratic party in said disaster?

The condition of affairs in Tennessee is getting worse and worse. There is a strong probability that Hawkins, the Republican candidate for Governor, will slip in between Wright and Wilson.

Some campaign poet has turned up here in Hopkinsville, to the extent of half a column in the Louisville Commercial. The production puts the author into the front rank of operative poets. The thread of the poem is to the effect that the Republicans carried Indiana in an election recently held in that State. Who is the Modern composer? Come, uncover, don't let your light shine under a bushel. Let the world know who it is that has so suddenly immortalized himself in the realms of poetry.

BROWNVILLE, TENN., Nov. 26, 1878.

Dr. J. B. Ragland, Jackson, Tenn:

DEAR SIR—I desire to express to you my grateful feelings for the timely and permanent cure you have given me of acute Rheumatism.

The pain was so severe in my ankle and knee that I could only walk with great difficulty. I could not stand but I bought a bottle of your medicine for fifty cents, and that night I could stand and walk as usual. I have had no return since, though it has been 4 months ago.

Very respectfully, H. B. FOLK.

JACKSON, TENN., Aug. 27, 1878.

I wish to state, for the benefit of those who suffer with Neuralgia, that I have suffered with the worst neuralgia in the most violent form, for two months, and had been treated by several physicians without being cured. I was so bad that for some time I could not put on my shoes. I was induced to try Dr. Ragland's Lightning Relief, which made a permanent cure in my case. Four months have passed and I have not a return of the disease.

Miss Georgie Merritt, a winsome belle of Bennettsown, has returned home after a visit of several days to friends in the city. This popular young lady formed many friends during her short stay who much regret her departure.

Among the delegates from this county to the Masonic Grand Lodge at Louisville were Drs. R. M. Fairleigh and B. W. Stone, and Messrs. S. O. Graves, A. M. Henry and J. M. P. Pool, the last two representing Lodges at Newstead and Bainbridge respectively.

Shooting Scrape.

R. T. Walker, an employee in Yancey's saloon, under this office, and Wm. Clark, a negro waiter in Gus Hall's Saloon opposite, got into an altercation Thursday in which Clark was shot in the shoulder. They were both sweeping out the gutters and Clark accused Walker of throwing dirt too far across the street.

This brought on the quarrel and after some high words both parties went in and got pistols. When they returned the quarrel was resumed and Walker shot twice at Clark, wounding him once in the shoulder.

The wound was nothing serious, though the physicians were unable to find the ball. Walker ran off at first but subsequently returned and surrendered to the authorities. His trial was held the following day and he was held over under a bond of $150. These are about the facts in the case. The negro is not hurt much and will probably be about again soon.

HERE AND THERE.

Read the new advertisement of C. A. Thompson, hardware dealer, in another column.

Who will use the city council next week is a question that yet remains to be decided.

The colored people will have a fair this week commencing Thursday and continuing three days.

Most of the visiting young ladies have left the city and returned to their homes.

Wouldn't it be a good idea to number the houses in the city? It would be a great convenience and might be done at a little expense. If we are going to have a city why not have one right?

The Farmers Home Journal is a very excellent paper of its kind. Farmers should have it by all means. We have arranged to furnish it for $1.20 and will take pleasure in ordering it for any of our subscribers.

Mrs. R. H. Short, of New Orleans, presented the Baptist Church with an elegant silver pitcher and goblet last week. It is a beauty and has the donor's name handsomely engraved upon it.

The L. & N. railroad company paid for the clothes bought for Thompson, the brakeman who was killed last week. They also paid for his coffin, and he is also to the credit of the company, the unfortunate man was given a very decent burial.

Young men and old make no mistake, but call early and examine the finest, best and cheapest line of fall and winter goods at Joe. S. Chastain's, agent for Jacob Reed's Sons, Philadelphia, Pa.

A new city court room and station house are being erected in front of the Engine House. This is a need long felt, and we are glad to chronicle the improvement.

Our sanctuary was enlivened last week by a visit from five of the prettiest and sweetest young ladies to be found anywhere. The ladies have some ardent admirers in this office, in spite of the insinuations of our neighbors on Court street, and the young ladies are assured that their visit was highly appreciated and enjoyed.

Mr. James B. Campbell late business manager of the New Era has accepted a like position in the office of the Louisville Evening Post. We congratulate him upon having secured so good a position upon making his debut into city life. We trust his ambitious hopes of future distinction may be realized.

Hon. John Feland has been appointed a commissioner of the Western Kentucky Lunatic Asylum vice Dr. E. R. Cook resigned. Mr. Feland is a man in every way competent to fill the position, but we don't exactly understand the Governor's motive in appointing a Republican. It is true it is a non-political office, but God knows Democrats get few enough of offices in Christian county without Republicans being appointed by a Democratic executive.

Miss Lizzie Randolph, the young lady who first took the scarlet fever at Bethel Female College, suffered a relapse last week and died on Wednesday. Her sister who came to nurse her and was herself attacked, is out of danger. The death of Miss Randolph is a very sad affair. She was an orphan from Henderson county and was considered a very bright and promising young lady. She was about fourteen years old. The school will be resumed next week.

Jno. McCoy, (col.) was caught stealing coal from West & Yancey's one night last week and put in jail. He was tried the following day and sentenced to thirty days imprisonment, in the county jail. Just such cases as this is what makes the whipping law almost a necessity. Instead of feeding and lodging him at an expense of $18 to the county, if he were taken up and the hide snatched off his back with a lash, it would do ten times as much good, and be infinitely cheaper.

The boys played a joke on a certain young gentleman who went away last week to see his sweetheart. They put out the report that he had gone off to marry. Learning of the affair he returned to the hotel and registered himself and wife, and so certain were a great many of his friends that he had really married that several of the ladies called at the hotel to see his wife before they found it was a joke.

Going up on the train to Louisville last week as we went was a couple of nutes, who had just been married in Nashville. They kept up a continual communication with their fingers and the beauty of it was that no one on the train could understand what they were talking about. Bye and bye the bride got sleepy and laying her head upon her husband's shoulder she sank into a peaceful slumber.

There has never been a time, in the history of Hopkinsville when so many substantial improvements were made as have been made during the past twelve months. This is a complete refutation of the charge made by the enemies of the Public School that the spirit of improvement and progression would be stifled and money no longer invested in city property. The past improvements are to be attributed in a great measure to the prospect of free education, and the time will come when Hopkinsville will be as public benefactors those who voted for the school bonds.

AMUSEMENTS.

The appearance of Miss Julia A. Hunt, at Mozart Hall, last Monday and Tuesday nights was an agreeable surprise to those who attended. Miss Hunt is an actress of more than ordinary talent. She is very small and is still quite young. She is a brunette and has been on the stage only one year. There is a bright future before her. Her personation of "Marie," in the Pearl of Savoy was very fine. She is supported by Giles Shine and a tolerably fair company. The universal verdict of those who saw her was that the entertainments were among the very best of the season. We trust she may be induced to visit us again. Her audiences were small and not at all commensurate with the merit of the company.

OUR FLIRTATIONS.

The Mackay-Sylvester combination made a capital hit here; they presented a spirited entertainment entitled "Our Flirtations" with which they certainly kept the audience in an unintermitted state of good humor throughout the evening. The basis of the play is a picnic party, the scene being laid, in the first act, in a railroad car on its way to the picnic, in the second in the woods, and in the third in the parlor of an adjacent hotel. The fun mainly depends upon the successive disguises of the heroine, Laura Lightheart (Miss Sylvester), who, as an old maid, flirts with her uncle, Richard Raymond, (Mr. Mackay) in order to hoodwink him and so get an opportunity of flirting in earnest with her chosen lover, Percy Vere (Mr. Hammond). These three actors kept up the fun without intermission, adding that purpose by some lively singing and dancing, a little in the minstrel style, but then everything is justified at a picnic. A little more of that flirtation would not be disagreeable. (Clarksville Chronicle.)

This company will visit us next week and will play the 1st and 2nd, prox. It is spoken of in terms of laudation by the press at other places where it has been. The impression that it is a show of the variety order is entirely erroneous. The company is of as high a moral character as other troupes and has decidedly more merit than most of them. Caste will be presented Monday night, Nov. 1st, and Our Flirtations the following night.

It will gratifying to the amusement loving public to announce that Madame Hourietta Chausfrau will be here next week. Madame Chausfrau will play on the 3d, and Frank Chausfrau on the 4th prox. The latter will play "Kit," but it has not yet been decided what Madame Chausfrau will play. It is with pleasure that we announce that a company of such decided merit will visit the city. This star actress needs no commendation. She has been here frequently, and the simple announcement that she will be here is enough to insure a full house. We will give further notice next week of the programmes for the two evenings.

HOUSE AND BUGGY STOLEN.

Messrs. Turner and Roach, two young gentlemen of the city, hired a buggy from G. W. Smith's livery stable last Sunday and went to preaching at Roaring Springs. They staid till after preaching at night, and while the horse was hitched at the gate of Mr. Roach's father some thief took the horse, buggy and all. The gate was in a few steps of the door, and only a short time elapsed between the time the horse was hitched and the stealing. It was a small gray mare and piano bed buggy. They offer a reward of $25 for the horse and buggy, and an additional $25 for the capture of the thief.

Many moons have waxed and waned since we last took up our many ten to jot the happenings of this community for your paper. Nothing has transpired of very moment, worthy the attention of your many readers.

Things go on as usual, smoothly and peaceably. Nothing occurring to mar the happy unity and harmony that ever abided with these people.

Well one business change has occurred that we may note, and that is the firm of L. H. McKee & Co., having sold to N. S. Bowles their stock of Drugs and groceries, to which business Mr. Bowles has added a good stock of dry goods, and is now building up a good trade. May success attend him in his enterprise.

The farmers we believe are about through seeding wheat and we think there was less than an average acreage sown.

The crop of tobacco just housed is thought to be excellent.

Two cases of scarlet fever have occurred here.

Wonder if the Casky Amateur Dramatic Club or the old Literary Society couldn't be revived, now?

There will be preaching at the Church next Sunday morning and evening, by Rev. M. A. Maxey, the old pastor.

Casky Station now boasts a barber shop.

Is a mistake; Lem McKee is not at Premboke this week.

Quite a delegation left here yesterday to attend the Synod of the C. P. Church which convened at Greenville to-day. The party was composed of Rev. M. A. Maxey and wife, Misses Annie McKee and Ida Kennedy, and Messrs Chas. McKee, James Camp-

Is It Possible

That a remedy made of such common simple plants as Hops, Buchu, Man, drake, Dandelion, etc., make so many and such marvelous and wonderful cures as Hop Bitters do. It must be for when old folks, young, rich and poor, Pastor and Doctor, Lawyer and Editor, all testify to having been cured by them, we must believe and doubt no longer. See other columns.
